We lay the foundations of servant-leaders. The School of Diplomacy and Governance (SDG) offers Bachelor of Arts Major in Consular and Diplomatic Affairs for learners drawn to politics and international relations.

Humans are guardians of the world.
Diplomacy shapes how the world is connected. Examine the interrelations of states, cultures, languages, politics and economies to gain a comprehensive understanding of global affairs. Your multidisciplinary education in social sciences, languages and humanities primes you to have a mindset for dialogue and a sensibility for diverging perspectives.

Mandarin Chinese, Spanish, or French—you have the opportunity to learn a language and understand the culture of different nations.

Our students learn to dialogue with other young minds at international conventions where they discourse on the intricacies of diplomacy, development and governance. Benildeans participate and consistently gain recognition in Model United Nations (MUN) conferences in Australia, China, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Switzerland, and the United States of America.

We educate young men and women to be ambassadors of common good, human rights, justice and peace.

Consular and Diplomatic Affairs

Diplomacy shapes how the world is connected. Examine the interrelations of states, cultures, languages, politics and economies to gain a comprehensive understanding of global affairs. Your multidisciplinary education in social sciences, languages and humanities primes you to have a mindset for dialogue and a sensibility for diverging perspectives.

You are future leaders. Learn a New Language Mandarin Chinese, Spanish, or French—you have the opportunity to learn a language and understand the culture of different nations. Consular and Diplomatic Affairs Diplomacy shapes how the world is connected. Examine the interrelations of states, cultures, languages, politics and economies to gain a comprehensive understanding of global affairs. Your multidisciplinary education in social sciences, languages and humanities primes you to have a mindset for dialogue and a sensibility for diverging perspectives. Model United Nations Assembly Our students learn to dialogue with other young minds at international conventions where they discourse on the intricacies of diplomacy, development and governance. Benildeans participate and consistently gain recognition in Model United Nations (MUN) conferences in Australia, China, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Switzerland, and the United States of America.

We educate young men and women to be ambassadors of common good, human rights, justice and peace.

Disciplines and Pillars Diplomacy Development International Relations Governance

In this increasingly borderless world, your responsibility is to think globally in order to promote solidarity among the community of nations.

You are future leaders. We educate young men and women to be ambassadors of common good, human rights, justice and peace.